1 CHAIRMAN KEILSON: Good evening, ladies and 2 gentlemen. Welcome to the Lawrence Board of 3 Zoning Appeals.

4 I'd ask you to turn off your phones if you
5 have them, please. Thank you very much. No
6 cross-conversations either, thank you.

7 Mr. Castro, proof of posting.

8 MR. CASTRO: I offer proof of posting in five 9 conspicuous places.

10 CHAIRMAN KEILSON: Thank you very, very much.

11 Mr. Goldman, would you care to offer a 12 preamble.

13 MR. GOLDMAN: The purpose of this brief
14 overture is to explain to those of you for whom 15 this is your first time before the Board of Zoning
16 Appeals, that the Board of Zoning Appeals has two 17 options. It can come to a meeting completely cold
18 and just wait for you to make your application
19 with every single detail that's contained within 20 the application, or the Board can come and having 21 gone as individuals and reviewed each and every 22 application, in many cases making a site visit as 23 individuals and having evaluated the case so that 24 when they come here collectively to consider the 25 application, they don't have to hear every single

1 detail, but can focus in on the salient issues.
2 The reason that I'm telling you this is that you
3 should not think that anybody, yourself or anyone
4 else whom your listening to, is getting any kind
5 of short shrift. What it really boils down to 6 is that this Board is completely focused, they're 7 all volunteers, they're focusing in on the 8 issues so if they tell you to sort of cut to the 9 chase they're not being short or abusive or 10 anything else, they're just focusing on the 11 issues.

12 That having been said, Mr. Chairman, please.

13 CHAIRMAN KEILSON: Thank you, Mr. Goldman.

14 MR. GOLDMAN: Thank you for the opportunity.

15 CHAIRMAN KEILSON: The first matter is an 16 extension request of Luck Crossing, LLC,
17 334 Longwood Crossing. They have a variance which 18 is about to expire and they have not begun their 19 construction due to economic hardship, and now 20 they have begun the construction and would ask for 21 an extension, and I believe the extension they 22 requested is for three years.

23 Does anyone want to speak on the issue? If 24 not, we'll go for a vote.

25 Mr. Rosen.
